President's Message

Arlene Goodman - President (702) 228-6362, arlvegas@aol.com

It's hard to believe that it is March and Purim is fast approaching, which means that Passover is around the corner.

We are having a Purim celebration on March 10th at 5:30, before our regular service. Please come in costume as there will be prizes.

Our annual Seder will be at the Suncoast on April 5, 2023. Look for additional information in this Newsletter. I really hope you were at our service honoring the second generation of BKB. Those participating were Mark Goodman, Ezra Meppen, Rebecca Miller, Jessica Perdichizzi and Amy Stevens. Their families were present AND ALL WERE KVELLING. This service was outstanding thanks to Moreh Alan Spector, Cantor Marla Goldberg, the choir, Soloist Melanie Spector and Choir Master Tim Cooper.

We have had wonderful Services in the past, but seeing the future of BKB on the Bima was amazing.

BKB is moving forward with our new website and plans for our Annual Seder to be held at The Suncoast April 5th. See additional information in our Newsletter. We are also planning a cruise in the future, we will keep you posted.

BKB is active and well, hope all of you stay the same.

Moreh Alan Spector

PURIM vs PASSOVER

Which is more important... Purim or Passover?

During the time span of this newsletter, we will celebrate both Purim and Passover. Two very different holidays. Purim is only one day long and is largely understood as a holiday for children, though even the adults celebrate and dress up in costume also these days. There are comical activities going on in shul and perhaps there is a carnival/party. We read the Megillah which is often filled with shtick and does not even contain G-d's name once. Purim is a lot of fun, but not much more than that.

Passover is 8 days long and is on a totally different level. It is, first of all, the most celebrated of all Jewish holidays. By far! I once read that statistics show that upwards of 90% of Jews make sure to get to a Passover seder, while only about 60% of Jews fast on Yom Kippur. Passover has many rituals and special foods for the seder plate. The Passover Haggadah is about serious themes – it is about freedom and human dignity, it is about the coming of Spring and the rebirth of the world, and what is more, Passover tells the origin story of the Jewish people – we were slaves in Egypt and G-d redeemed us, bringing us to the Promised Land and freedom. Passover is one of the three Pilgrimage Holidays in the Torah when Jews came to the Great Temple in Jerusalem.

I am thinking that the vast majority of us would say that Passover is the more important of the two holidays. It is odd, then, that our sages have said that when the Messiah finally arrives, the Pilgrimage Festivals – Sukkot, Shavuot – and Pesah (Passover) – will no longer be celebrated. But Purim will still be observed. Really? Our Sages believed that in the messianic era we won't have to build Sukkoth anymore, or shake the lulav and etrog, or study Torah on the night of Shavuot – or sit down at a seder table, and celebrate Passover... but we will still have to gather together to read the Megillah and to celebrate Purim?

So, is Purim the more important holiday? Consider that the core question of the Haggadah is 'what did G-d do for us?' The Haggadah recalls for us that G-d performed miracles for us, G-d took us from slavery to freedom. And we thank G-d for G-d's kindnesses. That is Hallel! What did G-d do for us?

But the question of the Megillah is an entirely different question. The story of Purim asks 'what did we do for ourselves?' And it answers that question by showing how, with incredible courage, in the face of enormous odds, Mordecai and Esther saved the Jews of their time.

So perhaps what the Sages saw in Purim that they didn't see in Passover is that salvation ultimately must come about through human action, not through G-d's miracles. If you want to make the world a better place, if you want to heal the world, if you want to make the world into the kind of place where one day the Moshiah (Messiah) might actually come – then you can't ask the question 'what will G-d do.' You have to ask the question 'what will we do?' And when we ask it over and over and over again, then that world can become a reality. At BKB, we work together as a family to do our part to make ourselves the best we can be and thus make the world a better place for all. May the Messiah come in our day.

Be well, take care,

Moreh Alan
Blessings and Peace.

Ritual Thoughts

Why be concerned with meaning? Why not be content with satisfaction of desires and needs? The vital drives of food, sex, and power, as well as the mental functions aimed at satisfying them, are as characteristic of animals as they are of us. Being human is a characteristic of a being who faces the question: After satisfaction, what? It is not enough for me to be able to say: "I am;" I want to know who I am, and in relation to whom I live. It is not enough for me to ask questions; I want to know how to answer the one question that seems to encompass everything I face: What am I here for? What is the meaning of my being? My quest is not for theoretical knowledge about myself. What I look for is not how to gain a firm hold on myself and on life, but primarily how to live a life that would deserve and evoke an eternal Amen.

Mike Fefferman
Ritual Vice President

A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY!

Adult Education Classes Are Back

Ruth Alexman, Temple Board Member, has volunteered to teach an eight session class entitled "Jews in the West." She has presented this subject several years ago to Brandeis University's National Women's Committee.

Classes will be held at Ruth's Home here in Sun City on Monday mornings from 10:00 AM to Noon on the second and fourth Mondays beginning on March 13th. There's only one catch – the class will only accommodate 12 students, so we shall take the first twelve that sign up.

TO REGISTER: Call Mike Fefferman at (414) 704-0730

JEW IN THE WEST: From the very beginning of European discovery of America, there were those Jews who were adventurous, casting their lot in an unknown place. This course recounts the stories of our earliest Jewish western adventurers, both men and women. Meet Jewish cowboys, wagon masters, Indian traders, pioneer settlers, miners and entrepreneurs, who came to a harsh land and made it their own, such as Adolph Sutro and Levi Strauss. Touching briefly on the first Jews in colonial America and in the Civil War, the focus will be on the Jews who went to the American West from 1840's to the 1920's.

DON'T WAIT – CALL NOW!

Men's Club

Larry Kaufman, President, (818) 486-4188, larry.kaufman.lk@gmail.com

Hi Everyone,

We hope everyone is doing well. The Men's Club had a wonderful Breakfast with Tim Cooper, our Musical Director and Choir Master, in February. He spoke about his life and his music here in Las Vegas. We had a great attendance and if you did not attend you missed a wonderful event.

On Monday, March 6th, at 9:00am, here at Desert Vista, we will be having our next Breakfast Meeting with a representative from the Las Vegas Metro Police speaking on home security and Safety. It will be open, this time, for Men and Women. We hope to see as many people as possible for this informative event. There will be limited seating so get your RSVP's in as soon as you can. Please call Dave Kandel, our Vice President, at (949) 697-8162 to get your reservation in.

There will be more exciting events this coming year. Please check the BKB Newsletter, when it come out, and also look for my E-Blasts coming to your email address.

Shalom,

Larry Kaufman
BKB Men's Club President
